

Trinity Capital Inc. Provides $20 Million in Growth Capital to ABM Respiratory Care to Advance Breathing Therapies

Oct 20, 2026

PHOENIX, Oct. 20, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- Trinity Capital Inc. (NYSE: TRIN) (the "Company"), a leading international alternative asset manager, today announced the commitment of $20 million in growth capital to ABM Respiratory Care (ABMRC), a medical technology company focused on developing and globally commercializing novel airway clearance and ventilation solutions.

ABMRC develops solutions for people with acute and chronic respiratory conditions. Its BiWaze® platform, features technologies designed to support airway clearance, lung expansion, and secretion management across hospital and home care settings. The company also strives to advance connected care technologies to support patient engagement and provide care teams with greater visibility into respiratory therapy utilization.

"For patients with compromised respiratory systems, clearing the lungs and breathing comfortably takes real effort and the right technology. We believe ABM Respiratory Care builds that technology, and we are proud to support the team as they work to bring it to more patients around the world," said Rob Lake, Senior Managing Director, Healthcare & Life Sciences at Trinity Capital.

The financing will help ABMRC accelerate commercial expansion, strengthen its global market presence, and support continued investment in product innovation, clinical research, and connected respiratory care technologies.

"This financing represents another significant milestone in ABM Respiratory Care's growth and financial evolution," said Greg Miller, Chief Executive Officer of ABM Respiratory Care. "Building on our current strong commercial momentum, our partnership with Trinity Capital strengthens our financial foundation and provides the capital and operating flexibility to accelerate strategic growth initiatives, expand our presence in existing and new markets, and bring our innovative respiratory care technologies to more patients and healthcare providers worldwide."
